

Bonnie Fordham, Laid to Rest

Bonnie Rose Fordham, 37, former resident of the Antelope Valley, was buried in Palmdale Tuesday following services at Sacred Heart Church in Lancaster arranged by Mumaw's. Fr. Charles Kennedy conducted the services.

Mrs. Fordham was the granddaughter of the late Judge H. L. Loft, former publisher of the South Antelope Valley Press, and during her stay in the Valley was engaged in newspaper and radio work as well as in free lance writing. She came to the Antelope Valley in 1935 after graduating from Fairfax high school in Los Angeles. She also attended the University of California at Berkeley.

Mrs. Fordham is survived by two daughters, Bonita Rose Chamberlin and Valois Ann Chamberlin; a son, David Henry Fordham; and her mother, Phebe Tebay, all of Tujunga; and her father, Frank K. Clow of Norwalk.
